About the Artists

Jorge Sosa, composer, is a Mexican-born composer, currently residing in New York City. Opera News described his telematic opera Alice in the Pandemic as "wildly imaginative, musically powerful and technically courageous" and commended "Sosa's broad stylistic palette (which) incorporated lyrical impassioned melodies, kooky carnival music, and efficient recitative". The Music Blog I Care if You Listen described Sosa's opera I Am A Dreamer Who No Longer Dreams as "well-balanced to the story's narrative, and his vocal writing aroused strong emotional peaks and valleys, magnified by the characters' impassioned performances". Both works were commissioned and premiered by White Snake Projects. During the 2023 season Jorge will premiere the puppet opera Monkey commissioned by White Snake Projects in Boston. In 2022 Jorge's opera I Am A Dreamer Who No Longer Dreams received its second production by Resonance Works in Pittsburgh, with a new expanded orchestration. Jorge was selected as a finalist for The Atlanta Opera 96 Hour Opera Project in 2022, and also premiered the opera scene “Samiri’s Feast,” commissioned by White Snake Projects. Jorge is currently collaborating with American Lyric Theater in the development of a new opera Splintered, co-composed with Justine Chen, with libretto by Lila Palmer. Splintered was awarded a 2022 Opera America Repertoire Development Grant. Jorge is an Associate Professor at Molloy University. Jorge’s music is available on all the major music download sites and through the website www.jorgesosa.com.

Melisa Tien, librettist, is a playwright, lyricist, and librettist. A resident of New Dramatists, she is co-author of the operas The Big Swim (Asia Society Texas Center/Houston Grand Opera, 2024), Song of the Nightingale (On Site Opera, 2023); and Family Heirloom (Experiments in Opera, 2023); co-author of the music-theater works Swell (HERE, 2021), Daylight Saving, and Mary; author of the plays Best Life (JACK, 2022), Yellow Card Red Card (Ice Factory, 2017), The Boyd Show, and Familium Vulgare; co-creator of the podcast/auditory experience Active Listening; and creator of the ongoing theatrical experiences Untitled Landscape and Community Forest.

She has been published in the anthology Theater Artists Making Theatre With No Theater (Tripwire Harlot Press, 2020) and the anthology Modern Music for New Singers: 21st Century American Art Songs (2021), and has authored essays for New Music USA and Innovations In Socially Distant Performance. She was a member of Berkeley Repertory Theatre's 2022 Ground Floor Residency Lab, Experiments in Opera’s 2022 Writers’ Room, The Assembly Theater Project’s 2021 Deceleration Lab, a recipient of a 2020-2021 grant from the NYC Women’s Fund for Media, Music, and Theatre, a 2016 New York Foundation for the Arts Fellow in Playwriting/Screenwriting, and a member of the 2010-2012 Women’s Project Lab. She has presented work at the New York Women’s Conference, the Great Plains Theatre Conference, the Women Playwrights International Conference, and the National Asian American Theatre Conference and Festival. BA, UCLA; MFA, Columbia University. www.melisatien.com.

Dr. Erik Rohde, conductor, maintains a diverse career as a conductor, violinist, and educator, and has performed in recitals and festivals across the United States and in Europe and Asia. He is the Director of Orchestral Activities at the University of Northern Iowa and the Artistic Director and Conductor of the Winona Symphony Orchestra (MN). Prior to his appointment at the University of Northern Iowa, Rohde served as the Director of String Activities and Orchestra at Indiana State University where he conducted the Symphony Orchestra and taught violin, chamber music, and Suzuki pedagogy. A committed advocate for contemporary music, he has premiered and commissioned many new works by both established and young composers, and is constantly seeking to discover new compositional voices. He is the violinist of the new music duo sonic apricity, which is dedicated to uncovering and commissioning new works by living composers for violin and viola. The duo released their first recording in December 2022. Rohde holds a Doctorate of Musical Arts in Conducting from the University of Minnesota – Twin Cities. He also holds degrees in Violin Performance and Biomedical Engineering. Rohde lives in Cedar Falls, IA with his wife Erin and their children. More at http://erikrohde.com.

Mandy Masmar, choreographer, is excited to be back with UNI Opera as their choreographer for their 8th production together! Some of these works include: Susannah, Hansel and Gretel, Serse, and Merry Wives of Windsor. She also has choreographed for TheatreUNI in many productions such as RENT, Into the Woods, and Hair, in addition to two world premiere musicals Just Ann and The Suffragist. Mandy was able to work with Theatre Cedar Rapids last summer choreographing for their production Elephant and Piggie: We’re in a Play! She’s currently the Artistic Director of the UNI Orchesis Dance Company, and has choreographed nearly 100 different creative works over her 15 year career. Thank you to my husband and three children for all their continued inspiration, love, and support!

Maddie Engelke, choreographer, originally from Storm Lake, Iowa, has been passionate about the arts since the age of 4 when she began her dance career. She graduated from the University of Northern Iowa in 2021 and now resides in Cedar Falls. During her time at the university, her love for dance inspired her to become the Vice President of the UNI Orchesis Dance Company, where she showcased several choreographic works, including her most recent piece presented at the American College Dance Association. Additionally, she serves as the Marketing Manager and an Instructor at Allison’s Dance Center, working closely with their competition teams. As a proud UNI alum, co-choreographing The Beehive has been an exciting and rewarding experience for Maddie, and she is eager to showcase the work that she and her fellow co-choreographer brought to life!

Ron Koinzan, technical director, received his MFA in Technical Production from Humboldt State University in 2003. In the last 20 years he has designed and/or built over 120 productions. He is currently employed by the University of Northern Iowa as the Technical Director for the Department of Theatre. This is his 5th production with the SOM’s Opera Department here at UNI. He would like to thank his family for their support and love.
