ABOUT THE ENSEMBLE

The Costa Rican Trombone Quartet, winners of the Costa Rican national Award of Music in 1997, is one of the most innovative and virtuosic brass ensembles of the American continent. Every year since its founding in 1991, CRTQ presents its season of concerts at the National Theatre of Costa Rica in San Jose. The group’s repertoire has included classical, Latin, contemporary, and jazz. The CRTQ has commissioned a great number of original works from important Costa Rican composers and others from abroad. After witnessing a recording session of the quartet, famed saxophonist/clarinetist Paquito D’Rivera said: “I can assure that the Costa Rican Trombone Quartet is one of the most interesting brass ensembles I have heard.”

This concert was made possible by the UNI Trombone Society, Northern Iowa Student Government and the UNI School of Music.
