A warm welcome and thank-you to parents, guardians, friends, and family of each of the students here. Your support for their music-making is an integral part of their success.

Dr. Maddy Tarantelli has taught at the University of Northern Iowa since Fall of 2023. Dr. Tarantelli is a member of the Lawrence Graduate Bayreuth Tuben Quintet which has performed in Montreal, Canada; Krakow Poland; and engaged in tours across the United States. Dr. Tarantelli also performs section and principal horn with the Colorado Mahlerfest. They have an immense drive to help students navigate their way into young adulthood using the horn as vehicle for connection to their career aspirations. Dr. Tarantelli has been running CommUNI-Horn since their first year at UNI – this community ensemble is open to hornists of all ages and skill levels to provide access to expert-led chamber music experiences.

This event is free to all UNI students, courtesy of the Panther Pass Program.

About the Horn Studio

The UNI Horn Studio features students from freshmen through seniors as non-majors through music majors. Our studio has undergone a marvelous transformation as each student brings something unique to lessons, rehearsals, and the overall environment of the group. This recital features our underclassmen majors and minors ending with the UNI Horn Choir comprised of the whole studio. Under the direction of Dr. Maddy Tarantelli, the UNI Horn Choir has performed in studio recitals, community outreach, UNI Horn Days, and International Horn Society's Mid-North Workshop in March of 2025.
