About the Artist

Madeline Echternacht is a senior student at the University of Northern Iowa. She is a Clarinet Performance major, studying under Dr. Amanda McCandless. She has previously studied with Joyce Wheeler. In her time at UNI, Madeline has been a part of the Northern Iowa Symphony Orchestra, UNI Wind Ensemble, UNI Symphonic Band, Clarinet Choir, and many chamber ensembles. She has also played with the Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra, and was a semifinalist in the 2023 UNI Concerto Competition.

Along with many performances at UNI and in the Cedar Valley, Madeline has also performed abroad. In 2022, she travelled with the UNI Wind Ensemble for a performance tour to Czechia, Austria, and Hungary. In July 2023, her woodwind quintet was invited to play at the Festival Musica in France, where they performed two operas and various chamber music.

Madeline has served as a Music Librarian for UNI's large ensembles the past two years, as well as a Music Ambassador for UNI's School of Music the past year. She teaches private clarinet lessons in Cedar Falls, which she finds extremely rewarding. When she is not playing clarinet, Madeline enjoys reading, playing cozy video games, and spending time with her cat, Oliver.

Upon graduating, Madeline plans to attend graduate school at the University of Kansas to pursue a Master of Music degree in Clarinet Performance.
