ABOUT OUR STUDENT MUSICIANS

Tamara Drury, originally from Dallas, Texas, is Dr. Angeleita Floyd's Flute Studio Graduate Assistant at the University of Northern Iowa. Ms. Drury is a second-year graduate student working on a Master of Music degree. She holds a Bachelor of Environmental Design in Architectural Studies (2015) from Texas A&M University, College Station and a Bachelor of Arts in Music degree and a Performance Certificate (2017) from The University of Texas at Austin. Andrew Wiele is a senior Instrumental Performance major at UNI. He is a member of all of the top instrumental ensembles at UNI as well as multiple ensembles outside of UNI. He has finished as a finalist in the 2017 UNI Presser Scholarship competition and a runner-up in the 2018 Fort Dodge Concerto Competition. As part of the Northern Iowa Symphony Orchestra, Andrew has toured in Brazil in 2017. He plans to continue his studies at a graduate level.

From Chesapeake, Virginia, Abigail Moore is a junior at the University of Northern Iowa pursuing a Bachelor's degree in violin performance where she is a student of Dr. Ross Winter. She currently plays with the Northern Iowa Symphony Orchestra and is a substitute player with the Waterloo-Cedar Falls Symphony and Dubuque Symphony Orchestra. She has also performed with the Virginia Symphony, is a Chesapeake Fine Arts Competition winner, and has been a finalist the last two years in the Concerto Competition at UNI.

Shiqun Ou started playing flute at the age of 13 in Emporium, PA. He was awarded the Semper Fidelis for Musical Excellence from the US Marine Youth Program (2013). At the age of 19, Shiqun made his New York City solo debut in Merkin Hall. He has performed internationally in Brazil, Italy and Switzerland. Shiqun received his Bachelor of Music from Penn State. Currently, he is a graduate student in the flute studio of Dr. Angeleita Floyd.

Collin Krukow is a BM Performance major at the University of Northern Iowa, studying with Dr. Anthony Williams. Collin has been a member of many of the music ensembles at UNI, including the Symphonic Band, Wind Ensemble, and NISO, as well as jazz ensembles such as the Jazz Panthers and Jazz Band One. He also participates in a variety of chamber and small group jazz ensembles, like the UNI Trombone Octet, Jazz Slides, and the Night Mayor quintet.

David Thompson is currently pursuing his Masters of Music in Oboe Performance at UNI. He previously completed his Bachelors of Music and Science in Oboe Performance and Music Education at St. Cloud State University in his hometown of St. Cloud, MN. David has been an active performer in Minnesota and Iowa for several years, as well as having experiences in Ireland, Brazil, and New York. In the coming years, David hopes to be teaching elementary music, while staying an active performer.

Violinist Bethany Washington is working towards her Masters in Violin Performance at UNI. In 2018, she graduated summa cum laude from the Robert McDuffie Center for Strings at Mercer University. She currently studies with Ross Winter. In January 2017 she made her Carnegie Hall debut with the McDuffie Center String (MCS) Ensemble and Mercer Singers. Bethany looks forward to growing her teaching and performing career and becoming more involved in the Cedar Falls/Waterloo area.

Donovan Klutho is a native of Bettendorf, Iowa and is in his second year pursuing bachelor's degrees in Music Performance and Music Technology at UNI. During his junior year at Bettendorf High School, Donovan won the Quad City Youth Symphony's annual concerto competition, and performed the first two movements of Bruce Broughton's Tuba Concerto with the Quad City Symphony. In August 2018, Donovan went to Twin Lake, Michigan to compete in the prestigious Leonard Falcone Tuba and Euphonium competition, where he was awarded third place in the Tuba Student division.
